Sensible Men

and women know ere this that of the many diseases and derangements of the body each has a separate cause or origin, and that each needs a different method of treatment in order to effect a cure, and a moment's reflection must convince that any of the quick nostrums foisted upon the public claiming to cure all or a number of diametrically different diseases must prove failures, even if we do not call them humbugs.

Poor People

and people of moderate means, and even people well to do or wealthy find that the enormous charges of practicing physicians are a
